

PRESS RELEASE

ENEL AMÉRICAS BOARD OF DIRECTORS APPOINTED MAURIZIO BEZZECCHERI AS NEW CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER

- The executive will assume the new position of Chief Executive Officer as of August 1, 2018
- To date, Maurizio Bezzeccheri was the country manager of Enel Argentina

Santiago, July 10, 2018 – In an extraordinary session, the Board of Directors of Enel Américas has appointed Maurizio Bezzeccheri as the new Chief Executive Officer of the company. The decision was announced through a Significant Event that also informed that he will begin his duties as of August 1, 2018.

Born in Pompeii, Italy, in 1958, Maurizio Bezzeccheri graduated as Doctor Cum Laude in Chemical Engineering from the University of Naples. Until now, a large part of his professional career has been in management positions in Europe, America and Middle East countries. His career in the Enel Group began in 1999 and since then he has held various positions until being designated in October 2015 as country manager of Enel Argentina with activities in the areas of generation, transmission, distribution and commercialization of energy.

"We wish Maurizio Bezzeccheri all the success in this new challenge he will assume in the coming days. We are confident that his extensive and outstanding experience in the Enel Group will be a contribution for Enel Americas to continue positioning itself as a leading company in the region", said Borja Acha, Chairman of Enel Américas.

Maurizio Bezzeccheri will assume the position of Chief Executive Officer of Enel Américas after the resignation of Luca D'Agnese announced on July 6 after leading the company for the last three years.